Dear Harold;

You catch me just as I finish packing for Detroit and a dull session with the Republicans, so I don't have time to do more then send you a quick note. Actually, I don't know what to suggest. I am sending a copy of your note, minus the Gee Whiz paragraph, to Walter Cronkite. I just don't seem to be able to stir up any interest elsewhere in this organization.

Walter is off to Detroit too, but this will reach him in time (I may not see him there since I am working radio, which is a whole different kingdom), and I'll let you know if he reacts.

best regards and thanks for your many kind attentions and invitations.

George E. Herman
